“Eligible” employees may take 12 weeks of unpaid leave in a 12-month period.

26 weeks to care for an injured service member

Continuation of health insurance benefits for the employee during the leave period.

Restoration of the employee to the same or equivalent position upon timely return from the leave.

Prohibits interference with leave and retaliation

An employee must be employed by a covered employer:

For at least 12 months (can include prior service);

For at least 1,250 hours in the 12 months immediately preceding the leave;

At a worksite having 50 or more employees within 75 miles of that worksite.

Many states have their own FMLA laws

Variations in terms of:

- coverage based on size of employer

- amount of leave

- reasons for leave

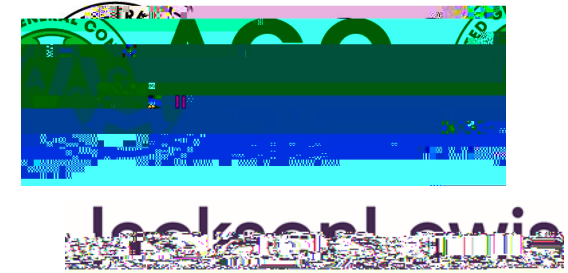

Private employers with fewer than 500 employees (by company not location) and certain public employers.

But . . .

An employer of an employee who is a healthcare provider or an emergency responder may elect to exclude the employee from the application of these two provisions.

U.S. Department of Labor regulations exempt small businesses with fewer than 50 employees when the provision would jeopardize the viability of the business as a going concern.

Both the paid FMLA and the Paid Sick Leave provisions go into effect no later than April 2, 2020 and remain in place until the end of 2020.

The Department of Labor is expected to issue regulations in early April 2020.

Employers will be required to post a FFCRA notice – to be published by the Department of Labor – in a conspicuous place in the workplace.

Employees who have been employed for at least 30 calendar days.

The usual FMLA requirements that the employee has been employed for a year, worked for at least 1,250 hours, and “Qualifying need related to a public health emergency” means an employee is unable to work due to a need for leave to care for the employee’s son or daughter (under 18 years of age) if the child’s elementary or secondary school or place of care has been closed, or the childcare provider is unavailable, due to a “public health emergency.”

Up to 12 weeks of FMLA leave

First two weeks are unpaid

Employee may elect to substitute any accrued vacation leave, personal leave, or medical/sick leave (for reasons allowed) under federal/state/local required paid sick leave) for the unpaid leave.

Subsequent absences for this reason must be paid at 2/3 the employee's "regular rate" of pay, as defined under the FLSA.

Capped at $200 a day ($25 per hour under an 8 hour work day) and $10,000 in aggregate per employee.

FMLA leave is generally job protected
Exception under FFCRA:

The paid sick leave requirements would apply to all employees under a covered employer.

1. The employee is subject to a federal, state, or local quarantine or isolation order related to COVID-19.
 2. The employee has been advised by a healthcare provider to self-quarantine due to concerns related to COVID-19.
 3. The employee is experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 and seeking a medical diagnosis.

4. The employee is caring for an individual who is subject to a federal, state, or local quarantine or isolation order related to COVID-19 or who has been advised by a healthcare provider to self-quarantine due to concerns related to COVID-19
 5. The employee is caring for a son or daughter if the school or place of care of the son or daughter has been closed, or the childcare provider of the son or daughter is unavailable, due to COVID-19 precautions.
 6. The employee is experiencing any other substantially similar condition specified by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Labor.

80 hours of paid sick leave for full-time employees.

The equivalent of the average number of hours a part-time employee works over two weeks.

If for an employee's own condition or quarantine (reasons 1-3):

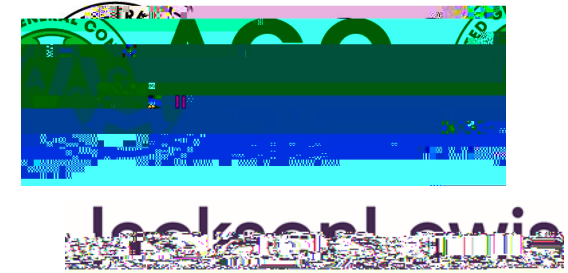

Paid sick leave is paid at the employee's "regular rate"
capped at $511 per day and $5,110 in the aggregate

If to care for others or "a substantially similar condition"
(reasons 4-6):

Paid at 2/3 regular rate
capped at $200 per day and $2,000 in the aggregate

After the first sick day, Employer may require an employee to follow reasonable notice procedures in order to continue receiving the paid sick leave

Both the FMLA provisions and the paid sick leave provisions provide that an employer signatory to a multi-employer collective bargaining agreement may fulfill its obligations (consistent with bargaining obligations and the collective bargaining agreement) by making contributions to a multi-employer fund, plan, or program based on what paid leave each of its employees is entitled to while working under the agreement.

The fund, plan, or program must enable employees to receive pay for both paid sick leave and the FMLA leave.

Only applies to:

Procurement contracts for construction covered by the Davis-Bacon Act (DBA) – but not the Davis-Bacon Related Acts;
Service contracts covered by the Service Contract Act (SCA);
Concession contracts, including any concessions contract excluded from the SCA by DOL's regulations at 29 CFR 4.133(b);
Contracts in connection with federal property or lands and related to offering services for federal employees, their dependents, or the general public (this includes leases).
